Acapulco, Guerrero, November 3, 2026 — Acapulco International Airport, operated by Grupo Aeroportuario del Centro Norte (OMA), welcomed the inaugural flight marking the return of the direct Acapulco–Cancún route, operated by Viva, strengthening air connectivity between the southwestern and southeastern regions of the country.

This connection provides passengers with an additional travel option between both destinations, facilitating trips for tourism, family visits, and business purposes. It also contributes to strengthening tourism activity in the state of Guerrero.

The inaugural flight reception was attended by Evelyn Salgado Pineda, Governor of the State of Guerrero; Rosa María Pavón Flores, Secretary of Tourism of Guerrero; Abelina López Rodríguez, Mayor of Acapulco; as well as representatives from OMA, Viva, and organizations from the tourism and hospitality sectors.

The direct route will operate with 2 weekly frequencies, on Tuesdays and Saturdays, complementing the existing connections with a quick stopover at Felipe Ángeles International Airport (AIFA), available on Thursdays and Sundays. With these services, Viva will offer a total of 4 weekly frequencies between Acapulco and Cancún.

"OMA welcomes the return of this Viva route, which will contribute to further strengthening connectivity at Acapulco International Airport, supporting regional development and facilitating tourist arrivals and commercial exchange," stated Ricardo Dueñas, CEO of OMA.

Viva currently operates 3 routes from Acapulco, connecting the destination with Cancún, Mexico City (AIFA), and Monterrey, providing passengers with more travel options to and from the city.

With the launch of new air connections and the strengthening of existing ones, OMA reaffirms its commitment to expanding air connectivity, promoting tourism, and contributing to the economic development of the regions where it operates.
